

Email: J.yu0320214@arts.ac.uk

Blog: <https://patyu.myblog.arts.ac.uk>

INTRODUCTION TO ANIMATION

ABOUT LUCK

JINYAN YU, PAT

Inspiration

I am playing TFT, which is a mode of LOL game, recently. Unlike others, I am playing it not just for win but to get Yone to 3 stars.

I consider myself a lucky person, however, I can barely see Yone in almost all matches. This makes me frustrated as I have never experienced this in any game. So, I made this video showing my confusion on luck that has gone as I am finding Yone.

I'm the man you can't get!
HA HA HA!

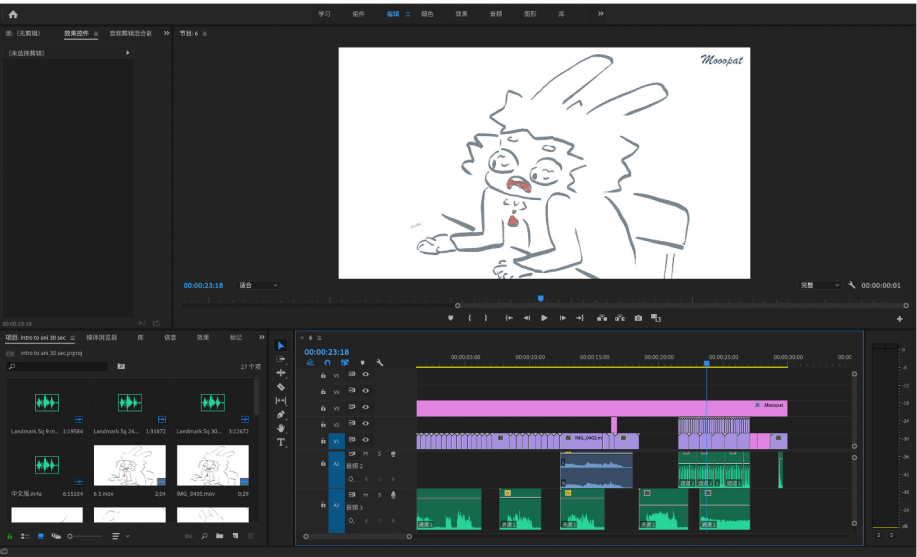

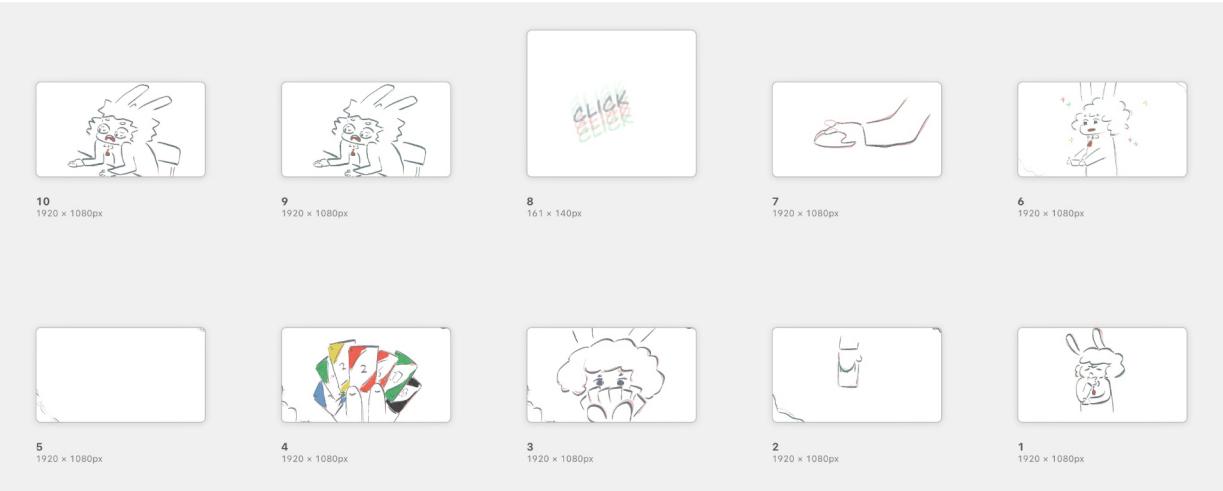

Process

Storyboard

Moopat

Animating in Procreate

Editing in Premiere Pro

Reflection

In this project I have been given a theme, POV. So I want to show what I care about and what happens on me. I don't have a clear idea at first as I doesn't want to show any negative feelings nor something that is serious. Therefore, I made a film about my thinking to my luck in a funny way.

I have used the character I made to present myself in the film I order to make it more interesting. I enjoyed making the animation and I used the methods that I am familiar in order to give the best result. I also enjoyed dubbing by myself although it was a little awkward for me to present my voice to others.

I am very pleased with my work but there is something that may be improved. As there is a time limit of 30 seconds, some parts of the film flashed too quickly and didn't met the expectations that I wanted to show. However, I don't know where can I reduce. I am hopping that I can improve it in the future.